DIRECTIVE TO: The Secretary of State
The Secretary of Defense
The Director of Central Intelligence

It is the purpose of this directive to authorize and provide for the more effective planning, coordination and conduct, within the framework of approved national policies, of psychological operations.

There is hereby established a Psychological Strategy Board responsible, within the purposes and terms of this directive, for the formulation and promulgation, as guidance to the departments and agencies responsible for psychological operations, of over-all national psychological objectives, policies and programs, and for the coordination and evaluation of the national psychological effort.

The Board will report to the National Security Council on the Board's activities and on its evaluation of the national psychological operations, including implementation of approved objectives, policies, and programs by the departments and agencies concerned.

For the purposes of this directive, psychological operations shall include all activities (other than overt types of economic warfare) envisioned under NSC 59/1 and NSC 10/2, the operational planning and execution of which shall remain, subject to this directive, as therein assigned.

The Board shall be composed of:

- a. The Undersecretary of State, the Deputy Secretary of Defense, and the Director of Central Intelligence, or, in their absence, their appropriate designees;
- b. An appropriate representative of the head of each such other department or agency of the Government as may, from time to time, be determined by the Board.

The Board shall designate one of its members as Chairman.

SA-M - Mr. White

Subject: Secretary's Press Conference

The Secretary may be questioned on Reston's article in the New York Times, Tuesday morning (April 3), which carried the story (1) that the President was considering extensive changes in the NSC, including a shake-up in the Senior Staff personnel; and (2) that a Psychological Strategy Board would be created, reporting to the NSC and comprised of Messrs. Lovett, Webb, and Smith.

Suggested reply:

(1) As far as we know, no changes in the NSC are contemplated. It is true that new Senior Staff Members are being appointed by the President. In the case of the Department, Mr. Bohlen is taking Ambassador Jessup's place because the latter's heavy duties do not permit him to prepare for and carry on international negotiations and also discharge the NSC work. (Under present procedures the NSC members nominate for the President's consideration Senior Staff Members; the President actually appoints the Senior Staff.)

(2) As to the Psychological Strategy Board, it is suggested that the Secretary say that the Department is in no position to comment upon this matter beyond the fact that coordinating arrangements between this and other fields of policy have been under study by the White House Staff.
